

Print - Close Window

Date: Tue, 18 Sep 2007 17:39:55 -0400
From: "Jeffrey Welch" <JWelch@cranbrook.edu>
To: "Nomi Yah" <got2get2nomi@yahoo.com>
Subject: Re: Regarding Daniel Ellsberg

Dear Nomi,

I wanted to tell Dan that I was using his book, Secrets, in my English class at Cranbrook Kingswood School. This is the third year I have been using it, actually since it was published, and he should know also that the students read the book very carefully and fully comprehend it before the course is finished. One way I get them motivated is to say: "If you can show me that you have read this book and understand it, I will give you an A for the semester." It is amazing, the results I get. I was wondering if Dan had any plans to come to the 80th birthday of Cranbrook School. It opened in 1927. On Saturday, October 20, alums will gather for a luncheon. It would be great if Dan came to the event and if he came a day early we'd find a way to put him with students and he could take the pulse of modern youth. Anyway, convey to him my best wishes, if you would. He's one of the greatest Americans!

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Welch
Cranbrook

>>> Nomi Yah <got2get2nomi@yahoo.com> 8/10/06 3:20:55 PM >>>

Dear Mr. Welch,

I am Dan Ellsberg's office assistant and recently found a card you sent him inviting him to lecture at Cranbrook. Dan is always busy so it was probably overlooked. There is no date on it but if you are still interested, you can let me know. It's easier to email me, since Dan is backed up on email as well. If this is still something you'd like to pursue, let me know possible dates and potential honorarium amount. Thanks.

Nomi

www.nomiyah.com